Sue Gray Bone

TRINITY -- Sue Gray Bone of Spring and Trinity died Aug. 23, 2003.

She was born in Owensboro, Ky., and had been a part-time resident of Trinity for several years and was preparing to build a home here with her husband.

She received a history degree from Kentucky Wesleyan Collage and was employed as a teacher, retiring after many years of service in the Spring Independent School District.

During her career in education, she taught at the Wells Middle School and served as a mentor to both the student teachers and students at the school.

She was known as an inspiring teacher, loving mother and a guiding wife and grandmother.

Survivors include her husband, Lyman Louis Bone Jr.; a son, Lyman Bone III of Trinity; a daughter, Mary Ann Bone of London, England; a brother, H.L. Gray of Fordsville, Ky.; a grandson, Tylor Bone; and her father-in-law, Lyman Bone Sr.

In accordance with her wishes, those desiring to make memorial contributions in her name are asked to contribute to the Habitat for Humanity North West Harris County, P.O., Box 682785, Houston, Texas 77268-2785.
