

Polk Co.
March 10, 2008

E. Camille McBride Davis

LIVINGSTON – E. Camille McBride Davis, formerly of Greenville, Miss., died on Feb. 27, 2008, in Lufkin Memorial Hospital. Mrs. Davis was born March 12, 1957 and was known as a devoted wife, mother and friend who enjoyed cooking for family and friends. Mrs. Davis, who retired from U.S. Gypsum, was also a member of Beta Sigma Phi sorority. Mrs. Davis was preceded in death by her mother, Maxine McBride; father, Wade Lee McBride Sr.; son, Scott Ellison Mays and brothers, Wade Lee McBride Jr., Robert Ray Meshell and Francis Steven McBride. Mrs. Davis is survived by her husband, Doyle Davis of Livingston; two sons, Bradley Davis of Livingston and William Davis of Cleveland, Miss.; granddaughter, Madison Davis of Corpus Christi; two brothers, James McBride and wife Edna and Dale McBride and wife Susan, all of Livingston; mother-in-law, Addie Davis of Cleveland, Miss.; brother-in-law, Mike Davis and wife Angie of Greenville, Miss.; sisters-in-law, Lynette Vick and Denona Proctor and husband Frank, all of Cleveland, Miss., as well as numerous nieces and nephews. Services will be held Monday, March 3, at Smith Funeral Home, Greenville, Miss. Visitation starts at 6 p.m. with a memorial service to follow at 7:30 p.m. The Rev. Bobby O'Fallon will officiate. In lieu of flowers, the family requests that a contribution be made in Mrs. Davis's memory to your favorite charity and/or hospice.