

Jim English

PHOEBE ADELINE
JULIAN DUGGAN

Mrs. Phoebe Adeline Julian Duggan, the widow of Clarence Duggan and William Robert Julian, age 84 of the Plain Community, passed away Sunday, February 23, 2003 in the East Texas Medical Center-Crockett from a stroke. Mrs. Duggan was born April 13, 1918 in the Plain Community-Tadmor area and attended elementary school in Cherokee County and high school in Crockett. Mrs. Duggan had a varied and well-traveled life with time spent in the State of Washington, Sept Isles, Quebec (Canada) Anchorage and other parts of Alaska. These areas were visited and lived in Duet Railroad Construction and employment by the Alaska Railroad by her first husband, William Robert Julian. Robert and she also lived and worked in Honduras, Central American and United Fruit Company's Tela Railroad. They both worked later for Texas State Home in Crockett to help troubled youth.

After the death of Robert Julian in 1985, she and her sister, Nina Craig became very involved with Houston County Historical Society and church activities in the Plain Community.

Three years after becoming a widow, she married Clarence Duggan, a retired Houston ISD teacher and Baptist preacher.

Mrs. Duggan and Clarence lived in Houston for about five years before he passed away in Survivors include her children Chester Roy Julian of the Kennard/Plain Community, Reba Annette Fry and husband Joe Pat, of Denton; grandchildren Robert Dale Julian and wife Kim, of Silver Spring, Md., Melissa Julian Bishop and husband Larry, Patrick D. Julian all of Bethesda, Md., Sally Ann Fry, of Denton; great-grandchildren Robert William Julian, Cody and Courtney Bishop; sister Nina Craig, of Little Rock, Ark.; brother Willis Patton and wife Ethel, of Ennis; numerous nieces, nephews, cousins, and other relatives.

Graveside funeral services for Mrs. Phoebe Adeline Julian Duggan were held Sunday, February 23, at 4:00 p.m. in the Jim English Cemetery with the Rev. Jim Tom Ainsworth officiating. Interment followed.

In lieu of flowers, memorial contributions may be made to a charity of your choice.

Callaway-Allee Funeral