

Allen Eugene Dusek

LIVINGSTON -- Allen Eugene Dusek of Livingston, formerly of El Campo, died unexpectedly on Friday, Sept. 7, 2007, in Lake City, Colo.

He was born July 24, 1942 in Wharton County to the late Charles and Annie Rose Triska Dusek. He married Darlyn York on July 12, 1985. He graduated from St. John Seminary High School in San Antonio before attending Assumption Seminary and the University of St. Thomas. He graduated from Sam Houston University in 1965.

He was a teacher and coach for El Campo ISD in 1965. He served in the U.S. Army from 1965 to 1968, and then returned to teach and coach in El Campo until 1969. He then worked in the Humble ISD as teacher, coach and in administration. He earned his master's degree in education from Sam Houston State during this time. He was superintendent of Tidehaven ISD for 13 years. After his retirement in 1997, he and Darlyn lived in Blessing until 2000, when they moved to Lake Livingston. In 2003, they began spending summers in Lake City, Colo.

Mr. Dusek was well respected in both his professional career and personal life. He was known as someone who touched many people with his kindness, was a loving husband and an excellent example for his kids and grandkids. From El Campo to Lake City, Colo. and everywhere in between he made friends. He enjoyed his retirement on Lake Livingston, where his life long friend, Andy Wells, lived close by. His chocolate lab, Bell, was never far from his side.
