

Lois Pauline Langham

LIVINGSTON – Lois Pauline Langham, 84, died Monday, Sept. 17, 2007, in Pineridge Health Care in Livingston.

Funeral services were held Wednesday, Sept. 19, in the Cochran Funeral Home Chapel, with the Rev. John Page officiating. Burial followed in Peebles Cemetery.

She is survived by her husband of 24 years, Jack Langham of Livingston; daughter, Brenda Wooldridge of Houston; sons and daughters-in-law, Wayne and Jeanny Wooldridge of Livingston, Marion Wooldridge of Highlands, Gary and Debbie Langham of Highlands and Dale Langham of Sugarland; grandsons, Wayne Wooldridge Jr., Kevin Wooldridge, Jared Langham of Dayton, Daniel Langham of Humble, Bradley Langham of Iraq, David Langham of Iraq and Jeffrey Langham; granddaughters, Tracey Wooldridge of Katy, Cheryl Head of Alvin, Stephanie Langham of Humble and Courtney Langham of Highlands; great-granddaughters, Amy Wooldridge, Tiffany Wooldridge, Ashley Wooldridge of Katy, Whitney Wooldridge of Katy and Sarah Head of Alvin and great-grandsons, Charles Wooldridge, Norman Wooldridge, Shawn Wooldridge of Katy, Steven Head of Alvin, Lauren Head of Alvin and Adam Purnell of Highlands.

She was born Jan. 22, 1923 in Cushing. She was preceded in death by her father, William Nelson; mother, Maggie Wilkerson Nelson; her first husband of 40 years, Charles Wooldridge; sisters, Ruby Tompkins, Lorene Nelson and Jewel Nelson Reeves; brothers, Jack Nelson, Jimbo Nelson and Curtis Nelson and grandson, Bobby Lloyd Wooldridge. She was known as someone who would rather be fishing than gardening and rather be gardening than cooking and whose family enjoyed her garden more than her biscuits, although she made a mean cornbread dressing.

Pallbearers were Tim Blum, Chuck Blum, Lynn Blum, Wayne Wooldridge Jr., Kevin Wooldridge and Wayne Wooldridge.