LOUISE OLIVER
MCLEAN

Mrs. Louise Oliver McLean was born in Houston, on October 29, 1908 to Gale and Willie Evelyn Oliver. Mrs. McLean passed away Sunday, November 5, 2006 in San Antonio, at the age of 98.

Mrs. McLean attended public school in Houston and graduated from Yoakum High School in Yoakum. Mrs. McLean received a Bachelor and Masters degree from Sam Houston State University. Mrs. McLean was a teacher in Crockett Independent School District from 1951 to 1957. Upon moving to San Antonio in 1957, she began teaching in the Alamo Heights School District at Cambridge Elementary, retiring in 1974.

Mrs. McLean's family ties instilled her great belief and support for the Texas A & M Aggies, with her father graduating in 1905, her brother in the class of '29, a son graduating in 1963, grandson and granddaughter and several Oliver nieces and nephews.

Some of her favorite things in life involved get-togethers with her family, traveling and site seeing in the country, fishing at Port Aransas, trips to Mexico and especially to Kyle Field.

Survivors include her son Dan Oliver McLean, of Houston; sister Amory E. Oliver, of San Antonio; daughter-in-law Mary McLean, of Denver, Colo.; grandson Jason McLean, of New York City, N.Y.; granddaughter Jennifer McLean Lechman, of Connecticut; brother-in-law Henry W. Johns, of San Antonio; sisters-in-law Annie Laurie Wight, of Somerville and Mary Louise Smith, of Houston.

Preceded in death by her parents Mr. and Mrs. Gale Oliver of San Antonio; husband Dan F. McLean, of Crockett; son Donald G. McLean of Denver, Colo.; brother Gale Oliver, Jr., of Cuero; sister Elizabeth Oliver Johns, of San Antonio; brother-in-law George E. McLean, of Crockett; and sister-in-law Dorothy McLean

Hail, of Atlanta, Georgia.

Visitation for friends and family will be held Friday, November 10th from 1:00 p.m. to 2:30 p.m. at Callaway-Allee Funeral Home. Burial following at Evergreen Memorial Park.
