LOUIE OYER MUSICK

Look on the Happy Side of Life. Louie Oyer Musick was born to Garrett and Eleanor Adine Hill Musick on March 14, 1914 being the fourth of nine children. He went to work for Exxon, then Humble Oil and Refinery in 1941 and retired in 1976. Mr. Musick strived very hard to be the best he could be by taking classes to advance himself. In 1939, he married Lera Frances Robinson. He loved good music, rodeos, travel, and the great outdoors and especially enjoyed visiting Hawaii and thought the landscape was beautiful. He had a great fondness for the pine-canopied trees and red dirt land of Cherokee County. Mr. Musick maintained a cabin and property in Cherokee County and also property on Harris County. He thought that land was of most importance. He loved his family and was a great believer in being fair-minded. He liked to hunt and garden and was very good with woodworking and made objects that were depictive of the things he loved of the western cowboy. He owned his own daddy's saddle and took pride in taking care of things. Mr. Musick wanted a good and happy life and strived for that daily. He loved good news and he loved people and was a good family man. He is survived by his wife of 61 years, Lera Musick; one daughter, Frances Ann Musick Riese; son-in-law, Harold Riese; granddaughter, Laura Hollaway; grandson, Mark Strole, and great-granddaughter, Candace Lori Hollaway. He has one remaining sister, Nina Goff of Russk and many nieces, nephews, and decedents.

Funeral services for Mr. Musick were held Saturday, Dec. 2 at 2 p.m. in the Callaway-Allee Memorial Chapel with the Rev. Doug Howell officiating. Interment followed in the Weldon Cemetery.

In lieu of usual remembrances, the family request that donations be made to the National Cancer Society or to a favorite charity.

Mr. Musick thought education was very important. He had traveled the whole U.S. and Canada and Mexico. He loved travel and was a member of the Exxon Armunuiants and XYZ at his church and he loved good food and friends. His daughter is retired from teaching school for 28 years and sent her gladly to receive the many degrees she sought, they were in accord that knowledge was very important. Strive for Excellence.
