PROFFER

Charles Edward Proffer, age 63, resident of Coldspring for 30 years, passed away Sunday, September 23, 2007. Born in Houston, Texas on October 30, 1943 to Charles R. and Frances Proffer.

Charles was employed by HL&P (now Centerpoint) for 35 years. In his free time he enjoyed hunting and fishing with his son. They were true buddies and he watched with pride as his son matured into an adult. The family moved from Houston to Coldspring and built their own house on the lake where they enjoyed the company of relatives, friends, and neighbors. He retired in 1997. He enjoyed landscaping his property by creating flowerbeds throughout. He took up the game of golf and became the proud holder of 6 confirmed holes in one. He dedicated his life to his wife of 43 years and as she became disabled he took great care of her. During their marriage they traveled to 30 states and numerous National Parks. He enjoyed people and was a true friend to many. Charlie will surely be missed.

Charles is preceded in death by his brother, Robert Proffer. Survivors include his loving wife, Annette Proffer; son, Chuck Proffer; mother-in-law, Irene Kujawa; sisters-in-law, Jackie Kujawa, Peggy Kujawa; brothers-in-law, Steve Kujawa, Kenneth Kujawa; nephews, Kevin Kujawa, Jonathan Kujawa; nieces, Laurie Duran, Cari Kujawa; and several other loving family members and caring friends.

Dr. Don M. Shannon conducted funeral services Wednesday, September 26, 2007, 10 a.m. at the Coldspring First Baptist Church. The Pallbearers to escort Charles to his final resting place at Earthman Resthaven Cemetery were Jim Crabtree, Kevin Kujawa, Paul Miller, Greg Duran, Kenneth Bennett, Cliff Whitehouse; Honorary Pallbearers, Tom Barnes, Tom Lambert, Foyd Smith and Steve Evans.
